

January 2013

It's never too early to starting thinking about the changes that will be coming in 2014 with the move from ICD-9-CM to ICD-10-CM

Below are some guidelines for the transition.

Please check back often as this information will be updated for your convenience.

- Effective date: October 1, 2014
- Transitioning to ICD-10-CM
  - Identify current systems in place for ICD-9-CM
  - Possible workflow process changes
  - Staff training
  - Physician training
    - Documentation requirements more specific coding requirements
  - Software upgrades, testing
  - Payer requirements
    - Electronic claim submission requirements
    - Paper claim submission requirements
  - Revision of any existing policies and procedures